Uphill Junior School provides 3 years of kindergarden and 7 years of primary level education.

Each child receives a good grounding in the basics of literacy and numeracy plus other curriculum subjects before being promoted to a higher year group. The school teaches subjects according to Ugandan National Curriculum and the children are assessed by sitting national examinations each school year. Some children live too far away to walk to school on a daily basis and local accommodation is provided during term time when needed.

In November 2017 children in this rural community had the opportunity to sit the Ugandan Primary Leaving Examination for the very first time - without this qualification they are not able to progress into secondary education. This is a huge accomplishment for the staff of Uphill Junior School and the parents are very happy that this opportunity is now available for their children. So are we!
